By Brian Falkner - Author

Introduction

Brian loves telling stories, either in his best-selling books, or standing in front of an audience of students.

He's the award winning author of fifteen books for children and young adults, published in over twelve countries in seven different languages.

For the last eight years Brian has also been touring the world teaching and coaching students in creative writing. His energy and humour make his workshops a fun and rewarding experience for young writers and his sessions are in high demand.

Presentation

To introduce himself to students Brian has a prepared talk which covers the following subjects:

- Having a dream
- How he became an author
- Where he gets his story ideas
- Research
- Emotions
- The importance of reading
- Some fun and games!

The presentation is 60 minutes but can be shortened or lengthened to suit school period times. The presentation is suitable for almost any size of audience and can be tailored to any age group.

The only setup required is a data-projector (with sound) and a small table for Brian.

'Write like an Author' Workshop

Brian's internationally acclaimed writing course teaches young people the skills they need to 'write like an author'. This workshop builds on the ideas established in the presentation, so it is important that the workshop participants have attended the presentation.

Participants should bring pen and paper to take notes, or workbooks are available at a small cost.

Other Workshops

If you have a specific topic you would like covered please contact Brian who can organise a workshop to suit your specific requirements.

Story Sports

Story Sports™ takes the concept of a writing workshop and turns it into a competitive sport.

It's a little like theatre sports, except that the emphasis is on writing skills. Students compete in quick-fire games that test their creativity, imagination, and story-writing skills to win prizes.
