

Competitive writing games

Developed by international award winning children's author Brian Falkner, StorySports puts the fun back into writing. Teams compete against each other in a series of writing challenges that teach students important writing skills, while they are having fun!

Fast furious fun!

It's a little like theatre sports, except that the emphasis is on writing skills. Under the guidance of referee and commentator Brian Falkner, students compete in quick-fire games that test their creativity, imagination, and story-writing skills to win prizes.

Teachers say...

"it was a pleasure to see such joy on the faces of the students"

"Some of these students may not always achieve in the physical sports arena, and this was their chance to shine!"

"a fabulous day that engaged and inspired our students"

"motivating and inspiring"
